

Felling never pays: too late above the threshold, unneeded below it

